DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-18, 27-33, and 85, drawn to a storage wrap material activated to form a continuous seal against a target surface, classified in class 428, subclass 357.
 - II. Claims 19-26, 59-66 and 82, drawn to a storage wrap material with thickness of 0.1 to 2 mils and activated to form a continuous seal against a target surface, classified in class 428, subclass 355 R.
 - III. Claims 34-40, 74-80, and 84 drawn to a storage wrap material with activation bond being selected from one or more of the group consisting of refastenable, resealable, and releasable bond, classified in class 428, subclass 352.
 - IV. Claims 41-58, 67-73, 81, and 83, drawn to a storage wrap material, classified in class 428, subclass 343.
 - V. Claims 87-94, drawn to a storage wrap material having low restorative forces to prevent seal failure, classified in class 428, subclass 351.
2. Inventions Group I and Group II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group I and II, because the thickness of Group II is limited.

3. Inventions Group I and Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group II and III, because Group III is refastenable, resealable, and releasable.

4. Inventions Group I and Group IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group I and IV, because the Group IV may not form continuous seal.

5. Inventions Group I and Group V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group I and V, because the Group V has low restorative forces.

6. Inventions Group II and Group III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group II and III, Group III is refastenable, resealable, and releasable.

7. Inventions Group II and Group IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group II and IV, because the Group IV may not form continuous seal.

8. Inventions Group II and Group V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group II and V, because the Group V has low restorative forces.

9. Inventions Group III and Group IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group III and IV, because the Group IV may not form continuous seal.

10. Inventions Group III and Group V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group II and V, because the Group V has low restorative forces.

11. Inventions Group IV and Group V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions Group IV and V, because the Group V has low restorative forces.

12. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
